To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my profound interest in joining the Westchester County Domestic Violence Council. I am a survivor of domestic violence and a passionate advocate for victims. I have a background of roles and experiences that contribute to my effective communication skills, empathy towards victims and for the pursuit of improved rights, services and resources on their behalf.

I have been a resident of Pound Ridge since 2004 and lived in Westchester County since 1967. I grew up in lower Westchester, graduating from Scarsdale High School. I received my undergraduate degree in Elementary Education from SUNY Cortland and received a Master's degree in Early Childhood Special Education from Teachers College, Columbia University. After teaching for 6 years, I moved to Northern Westchester where I raised my four children.

Currently, I am a peer support advocate for victims of domestic violence, providing resources, support and guidance to victims in need. I also volunteer with the Westchester County Domestic Violence High Risk Team, training police officers in municipalities across the county on how to identify and respond to signs of domestic violence. I also serve on the board of the New Dawn Family Resource Center, which provides and expands support for programs and services for victims of domestic abuse, sexual assault, elder abuse, and human trafficking in Northern Westchester. I also am a member of the Pound Ridge Police Reform Committee, recently formed in response to the Governor's Executive Order - New York State Police Reform and Reinvention Collaborative - calling for the formation of local committees to work with their police agency to update policing policies and practices.

I welcome the opportunity to further discuss my qualifications should you have any questions. Thank you for your consideration and I look forward to hearing from you.

Fondly,

Marisa Moran Sullivan
